VisualDOC 7.0, DOT 6.0, and BIGDOT 3.0 download instructions

Below are the download instructions for VisualDOC. Follow steps 1-4 to download and install VisualDOC. After you have installed the software, follow the instructions in step 5 below to obtain a license.

1. In your web browser, go to http://www.vrand.com/download

This page will prompt for a user-name and password.
The user name is: guest
The password is: oT4p+jV/nx

(It is recommended that you copy/paste the password).

2. Click on the sub-directory: visualdoc

3. For Linux 64 bit, download the file with name:
VisualDOC-7.0-Linux-x86_64-Install

For Windows 32 or 64 bit, download the file with name:
VisualDOC-7.0-Setup.exe

4. Double click the downloaded file (the installer) to start the installation. The installation wizard will be displayed. Follow the instructions in the wizard to complete the installation.

Note for Windows:

Both the 32 and the 64 bit versions of VisualDOC/DOT/BIGDOT get installed during the installation process.

Note for Linux:

If double-clicking the installer does not start the installation, then open a terminal, navigate to the folder that contains the VisualDOC installer, and issue the following two commands.

chmod 755 VisualDOC-7.0-Linux-x86_64-Install

./VisualDOC-7.0-Linux-x86_64-Install

5. You may launch VisualDOC by double-clicking on the Desktop shortcut, or launch it from the Start menu. When you launch VisualDOC for the first time, and if it does not find a valid license, it will pop up a license request dialog where you can fill the requisite information and save it to a text file. Send the text file to license@vrand.com or to your distributor to request a license. After you have received the license file from VR&D, put it in the <VisualDOC_Install_Directory>/vrand/licenses folder.

The "VisualDOC Getting Started Manual" which is located at <Install_Directory>/vrand/vdoc7.0/docs/GettingStartedExamples.pdf is a good starting point for users new to VisualDOC 7.0.

Please feel free to send an email to visualdoc.support@vrand.com if you have any questions or comments.
